POLICY STATEMENT REGARDING ALLERGIES:

Allergies are not generally considered to be a severe medical condition. The ULM Residential Life personnel will assist students by providing compatible roommate/suitemate situations and special janitorial/maintenance assistance to assure a reasonably controlled environment. The students also may take the same special control measures in the residence hall as they would take in an off-campus residence. Based on these facts, we do not grant off-campus permission for allergies. The Housing Appeals Committee has previously ruled that students should first notify the Housing Office of their condition. Residential Life will then set up a maintenance program to provide a reasonable environment.

HARDSHIP POLICY:

- 1. Financial Hardship is defined as extenuating circumstances that would present a financial burden on a family (ex. death of primary provider, loss of employment, etc.). Living off campus because it is less expensive is not considered a financial hardship.
- 2. Submit documentation of your financial hardship.

The student seeking financial hardship exemption should submit the following documents:

- 1. Application to live Off-Campus
- 2. Copy of parent's income tax return for the last tax year.
- 3. Statement from an ULM Financial Aid Officer showing the student's aid status. (Student Aid Report may be substituted)
- 4. A notarized letter from the parents giving any significant hardship factors of a financial nature.
